Tripwrecked! Tempest Terror

Author: Ross Montgomery Format: Paperback Release Date: 02/09/2021 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 What a super introduction to Shakespeare and his play The Tempest. The story tells of a group of school children who are on a ferry to perform the play in a festival in Italy. If you know the Tempest, you can probably guess that their ferry capsizes, and the group are shipwrecked. The drama then unfolds! Half of the actors wash up on the beach, the other half and their teacher, Mr Fortune (or not so fortunate) are missing. The characters identities are set out in the first chapter, where the reader is introduced to the confident bossy leader, the shy, but intelligent boy, the thinker, and the clown. What is clever, is that if you know the play, the characters resemble those in Shakespeare's play, but if you don't, it in no way detracts from the enjoyment of the story. The story is lively and fast paced, but still manages to include some lovely description and colour, such as 'the unspooling music like golden ribbon' heard by the children. It is also quite humorous with some lively banter between the group. For those readers who like things explained, and everything rounded up, the final chapter brings all the plots and characters together in true Shakespearean fashion. All is revealed, the poor unfortunate Caliban, why there is a desert island just off the coast of Dover, and why the group were split up! The book is of a good length for all levels of reader and printed on dyslexic friendly paper. I look forward to Hurly-Burly (Macbeth in disguise!).

The Tindims and the Floating Moon

Author: Sally Gardner Format: Paperback Release Date: 10/06/2021 Year Groups: Key Stage 1

A Julia Eccleshare Pick of the Month June 2021 Too much grumpy Gupper Fog is swirling around Rubbish Island. The moon has disappeared into the sea and everything has turned topsy turvey…How can the Tindims put things right and make Rubbish Island a safe and pleasant place to live again? There's great charm to Sally Gardner's zany story which is amplified in Lydia Corry's illustrations.

The Small Things

Author: Lisa Thompson Format: Paperback Release Date: 03/06/2021 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 Anna has friends at school, a kind teacher, she's not being bullied, yet still she feels anxious, subdued, and terribly conscious that her friends' lives are much busier than hers, a round of after school lessons, activities and clubs. The arrival in her class of new girl Ellie changes everything however. Ellie is ill and can't come to school, instead she communicates via a special robot, quickly named Ellie-bot by the class. As the two girls become friends, Anna finds herself inventing the kind of home life her friends have, scared that her normal life is too small-scale to impress Ellie. The truth emerges, of course, but Ellie is wise enough to understand that it's the small things in life that are the best. Quiet and gentle as it is, nonetheless this story packs a real punch and is delivered with the warmth, compassion and understanding that mark out Thompson's writing. Published by dyslexia specialist Barrington Stoke, it is accessible to all readers.

The Dog that Saved the World (Cup)

Author: Phil Earle Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/03/2021
Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 Two true stories inspire this warm, positive, uplifting story: the real-life adventure of Pickles, the dog who found the World Cup, and the amazing achievements of Fara Williams, the women's football superstar who was winning on the pitch even while she was homeless. Like Fara, Elsie is football mad, as is her dog Pickles, who narrates for us. In the story, the world cup trophy is stolen, which means Elsie will miss her chance to play in a half-time match at Wembley. That opportunity has been sustaining her through difficult times as she and her dad (and Pickles), also like Fara Williams, have lost their home and are living in a noisy, dingy hostel. Fortunately, Pickles is as good a detective as his famous namesake... Publisher Barrington Stoke specialise in books for dyslexic or reluctant readers, and there's lots of page-turning action packed into a short extent. The book is big on emotions too though, making clear just how devastating it is to lose your home, while showing how love, family and hope can get you through just about anything. It also reminds us that football – playing, watching, being a fan – is life-enhancing. A winner! Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant or dyslexic readers aged 13+

Swan Song

Author: Gill Lewis Format: Paperback Release Date: 04/02/2021
Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 Gill Lewis is contemporary children's literature's nature writer par excellence, telling moving stories of human encounters with wild animals that powerfully connect readers with the natural world. Swan Song tells the story of Dylan, expelled from his school and struggling with depression until he moves with his mother to her family home in a tiny Welsh village. In the peace and quiet of days on his grandfather's boat, Dylan begins to find himself again, but it is the discovery of an injured Whooper swan that is life-saving, and shown to be literally so. Written for dyslexia specialist Barrington Stoke, this short novel will be accessible to all readers and its message of the healing power of nature and community more important now than it's ever been. The LoveReading LitFest invited Gill Lewis to the festival to talk about Swan Song, and green reads for kids with fellow author Konnie Huq. You can view the event by subscribing to the LitFest programme for as little as £6 per month - or you can pay per view. For just £2, go, see them in conversation with Paul Blezard, you won't be disappointed. Check out a preview of the event here

The Tindims and the Turtle Tangle

Author: Sally Gardner Format: Paperback Release Date: 04/02/2021
Year Groups: Key Stage 1

Interest Age 5+ Reading Age 5 | Selected for The Book Box by LoveReading4Kids Something like nautical Borrowers, the Tindims live on a floating island, gathering, reusing and recycling what people throw away. When Bottle Mountain gets too big and slides off the island, it knocks Granny Gull's house into the sea and with it Captain Spoons and Broom. With typical ingenuity, the Tindims prepare a rescue mission even as the captain and Broom are being lifted out of the ocean by Long Legs (ie adult humans). While the rescue doesn't go quite according to plan, everything works out, in particular the meeting with the Long Legs and their Little Long Legs. Children will love the Tindims and their world. These little people are both wise and innocent, delighting in poetry, song and jam-making as well as their recycling. Printed in an easy-to-read dyslexia-friendly font and with Lydia Corry's gorgeous illustrations on every page, the stories are perfect for newly independent readers. Printed in dyslexia-friendly font with pictures on every page and perfect for the reluctant reader.

The Ghost Garden

Author: Emma Carroll Format: Paperback Release Date: 07/01/2021
Year Groups: Key Stage 2

The grounds of a country house in the summer months of 1914 provide the setting for Emma Carroll's spooky novella and she uses it to explore themes of growing understanding and the awful, looming threat of war. Brought together after an accident puts him temporarily into a wheelchair requiring someone to push it, Leo and Fran form an upstairs-downstairs friendship. Fran is unsettled by a series of strange, seemingly supernatural coincidences that seem to be warnings of things to come, while Leo is obsessed by events in Europe and what they may lead to. Their different worries merge in a deliciously spooky scene where the two young people encounter the ghosts of an Anglo-Saxon army, something they interpret as a warning of what is to come; sure enough, the story concludes with the announcement of World War I. Despite a sense of foreboding, we know that their friendship will endure and feel certain that, whatever happens, the future will hold good things for both. Emma Carroll is one of our foremost authors of historical fiction for children and creates a tangible sense of the tension of those summer months as well as an appealing, believable set of characters. Published by Barrington Stoke, the book is accessible to all readers, including those with dyslexia, and highly recommended.

Queen of King Street

Author: Tom McLaughlin Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/10/2020 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 | November 2020 Book of the Month Tom McLaughlin's new story stars a royal family, but as you've never imagined them before! When hapless Bertie, the Queen's brother, gambles away their entire estate on a game of Happy Families, the whole family are turfed out. It seems no-one is particularly sorry to see them go either, they've been stuck-up, selfish and entitled. Life in their new home in King Street, Windsor takes some getting used to, but mixing with the hoi-polloi, aka their new neighbours, teaches the former royals to be much nicer people (as well as giving them a taste for Pot Noodle). It's delightfully silly and very funny, but actually full of useful life lessons too. Published by Barrington Stoke, this is accessible to all readers including those reluctant, struggling or dyslexic.

The Griffin Gate

Author: Vashti Hardy Format: Paperback Release Date: 01/10/2020 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 Blue Peter Book Award winner Vashti Hardy joins the excellent Barrington Stoke list with this new book and concisely delivers an exciting sci-fi adventure in just 100 pages. 13-year-old Grace is frustrated that as the youngest member of her family she's not allowed to run solo missions for their magical warden operation, which protects the people of Moreland. So when the alarm bell rings and she's the only one in the office, she answers the call anyway, jumping into their transporter with her companion, clockwork raven Watson, and climbing out into what turns out to be some treacherous goings on. Will Grace need rescuing by her family, or will it be the other way round? It's a great bit of adventure, with recognisable characters and family relationships and a vividly drawn other-world. More please!

The Invasion of Crooked Oak

Author: Dan Smith Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/09/2020
Year Groups: Key Stage 2

September 2020 Book of the Month | Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 If you like your adventures good and creepy, you're going to love The Invasion of the Crooked Oak. Crooked Oak is a peaceful kind of place, but it seems something is up with the town's grown-ups – they've stopped eating, are avoiding the light, and generally behaving really strangely. When teenagers Pete, Krish and Nancy try to work out what's going on, they find the trail leads to the fracking site on the town's edge. The tension ratchets up nicely as the three realise they've got one chance to save their parents and themselves. The environmental theme feels very topical and author Dan Smith knows just how to keep his readers on the edge of their seats. Published by dyslexia specialists Barrington Stoke, this is accessible to readers of all abilities and completely gripping.

Sequin and Stitch

Author: Laura Dockrill Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/08/2020
Year Groups: Key Stage 2

August 2020 Book of the Month | Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 Laura Dockrill packs a really big story into this compact little book and though she tackles some big issues too, she keeps them specific to her set of characters, so that even quite young readers will understand. Sequin's mum is a dressmaker, sewing gowns and fabulous outfits for the stars. She never takes any credit though, preferring to stay in the background and in fact, she's literally hiding herself away in the family's flat at the top of a tower block. When Sequin does a school presentation about her mum, no-one believes her. It makes Sequin angry with her mum, but then a terrible danger threatens them and they both have to face their real fears. It's a story that readers will absolutely love, with a twist that they'll want to return to again and again. Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant or dyslexic readers aged 8+

Survival in Space The Apollo 13 Mission

Author: David Long Format: Paperback Release Date: 09/04/2020
Year Groups: Key Stage 2

May 2020 Non-Fiction Book of the Month | Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 It's exactly fifty years since the infamous Apollo 13 space mission took off for the moon. For any young person who doesn't know what happened – and indeed for those that do too – David Long's retelling will keep them on the edge of their seats, awed by the challenges of space travel, and by the ingenuity and determination of those who work in it. Survival in Space describes with just the right level of detail, how a broken electrical wire led to the explosion that left astronauts Jim Lovell, Jack Swigert and Fred Haise stranded 200,000 miles from home, and how they and the team on earth worked to engineer their eventual successful return. In Barrington Stoke style, this is accessible to all readers, including those with dyslexia, but is without any trace of simplification. David Long has a great track record in non-fiction and this will be another firm favourite. Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant or dyslexic readers aged 8+

A Bad Day for Jayden

Author: Tony Bradman Format: Paperback Release Date: 12/03/2020 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 Tony Bradman's gripping novella about a (bad) day in the life of a boy caring for his mum is truly touching, and especially great for reluctant readers – the concise, considered storytelling holds attention, and the short chapters are perfect for encouraging readers to keep going, or take a break, as they require. Jayden's Mum hasn't been herself since losing her job at the supermarket. "Maybe Mum would do the washing today," he wonders before school one morning. "They really needed some shopping as well – the fridge was almost empty." With Mum still in bed, Jayden gets little sister Madison ready for school, all the while worrying about what they'll do when there's no money at all, what they'll eat for dinner now the cupboards are bare. Things get even worse at school when his best friend tells him to "go away...We're not friends anymore." Meanwhile, Jayden's new supply teacher isn't having a good day either: "She'd wanted to teach kids, but she had also wanted to make a difference to their lives. Yet things had changed, and over the last few years she had seemed to spend all her time filling out forms... And that made her feel cross and sad." And now she's here in Jayden's school feeling lost, wondering whether she should be a teacher at all. Seeing Jayden look so sad pains her heart and then, when his sadness turns to anger and erupts like an angry volcano, Miss Wilson helps him see light at the end of his dark tunnel. Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant or dyslexic readers aged 8+

Magicat

Author: Jennifer Gray, Amanda Swift Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/02/2020 Year Groups: Key Stage 1

February 2020 Book of the Month | Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 This little story sparkles with magic and fun. It starts on Hallowe'en when friends Jessie and Ali find something very unexpected in their treat bucket – a little kitten. What's even more surprising, the kitten is magic and can talk. They take the perfectly named Magicat home and all sorts of adventures follow – sheds are turned into treehouses, pancakes are cooked (almost) and the bully next door is put in his place. It's all made even more exciting because Magicat isn't quite as expert at the magic thing as he'd have you believe and some of the spells go delightfully wrong. Purrfect for newly confident readers as well as for those who are reluctant or dyslexic. Let's hope there are more adventures to come for Magicat and his friends. Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant or dyslexic readers aged 8+

A Most Peculiar Toy Factory

Author: Alex Bell Format: Paperback Release Date: 04/09/2019 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 Nothing is what it seems in Alex Bell's spritely, spooky novella that sees a girl figure out the sinister secrets of a toy factory. An atmosphere of underlying mystery is keenly evoked from the off: "The children of Cherryville all knew the factory was an evil place. Something awful had happened inside five years ago. It was something kids still whispered about in the playground and used to frighten each other at sleepovers." And in the way of all creepy rumours, "None of the children in the town knew the truth for sure. They just knew that they should stay away from that factory." Unfortunately for Tess, she and her younger siblings are forced to work in the factory when its reopening ominously coincides with her family's farm falling on hard times. With its eccentric Willy Wonka-esque owner mysteriously only employing under twelve-year-olds, what else can they do? Inside the factory, it's not long before all manner of terrifying events unfold, and all creepy fingers point to the teddy bears being behind them. Though short in length, this is big in impact: how's this for an evocative description: "And the smell of damp gave way to the scent of goblin, which was something like black pepper and toffee apples mixed up together"? The story sprints to tense end, with a final twist in the tale that would give Roald Dahl a run for his money. And, being published by Barrington Stoke, it's written and designed with reluctant and dyslexic readers in mind. Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant and dyslexic readers aged 8+

Eagle Warrior

Author: Gill Lewis Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/07/2019
Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8 | Longlisted for the UKLA Book Awards 2021 | July 2019 Book of the Month Characteristically, Gill Lewis skilfully conjures a vivid sense of landscape and wildlife in a story starring a character driven by her love of wild things and determination to achieve justice for them. Bobbie lives on a sheep farm in the Scottish Highlands with her parents and strong-willed, somewhat eccentric grandma. In a shocking opening chapter, Granny's little dog dies suddenly and horribly, poisoned by bait intended to kill a magnificent young golden eagle. Bobbie and her granny know that the local landlord's gamekeeper is responsible, and that he's a threat to all birds of prey in the area. Can they prove it, and protect the eagle? Readers will be gripped by the story and quickly come to understand Bobbie's love for the eagle and her passion to stand up for it and all wild birds. It's a terrific story, told with real impact, one for all animal lovers. Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant or dyslexic readers aged 8+

Owen and the Soldier

Author: Lisa Thompson Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/06/2019 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Highly Commended in the UKLA Book Awards 2021 | Shortlisted for the Children's Book Award 2020 | Shortlisted for the Blue Peter Book Awards 2020, Best Story category | July 2019 Book of the Month | A Julia Eccleshare Pick of the Month July 2019 A beautifully told, deeply moving story about how a boy finds a special way of remembering his soldier father. When Owen's father dies fighting in Syria he finds himself caring for his mum who isn't coping well. School becomes a struggle as he doesn't want to tell anyone but he finds comfort and refuge in the local memorial garden when there is a crumbing statue as a memorial to those who died in the First World War. When the council decide to remodel the garden and remove the statue Owen knows that he must take dramatic action. And fast. Luckily, he gets the chance to write a poem for the opening of his school's new library. Owen's poem captures the importance of remembering while his presentation of it and the effect it has on the council brings him resolution. Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant or dyslexic readers aged 8+ Lisa Thompson, said of her Blue Peter nomination: "To have a book nominated for an award is wonderful, but to have a book in the final three of the Blue Peter Book Award is an absolute honour! I was an avid Blue Peter viewer as a child, and I am so delighted to see Owen and the Soldier included in the short list. It's so exciting!"

The Unlucky Eleven

Author: Phil Earle Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/05/2019
Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 5-8 Everyone knows that footballers are super-superstitious and when things suddenly start going wrong for the Saints, they decide their team is under a curse. The question is, what can they do to lift it? Stanley is the only one of them who really understands that lucky strips and garlic down their socks won't get them winning again – only confidence and determination will do that. It's up to him to change the team's outlook. The action flows, both on the pitch and in the dressing room, and the story feels as real and authentic as a pair of muddy football boots. Steve May's illustrations are bang on and in Barrington Stoke style, this is accessible even to reluctant or dyslexic readers. A winner!

Home Ground

Author: Alan Gibbons Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/04/2019
Year Groups: Key Stage 2

May 2018 Book of the Month | Interest Age 8-12 Reading Age 8 Alan Gibbons can pack a great deal of story and power into a short extent and that's certainly the case with this book. It stars a group of young footballers, two of whom – the most talented – are refugees, only recently invited to play with West Team Celtic. Our main character, Sam, is happy to accept them into the squad but a boy called Jordan resents anyone who is better than him, and does his best to keep them out of the team. The drama of the matches is broken up and balanced via short chapters explaining who refugees are, where they come from, and why – something that makes the book much more than just a sports adventure. For the the final scene, everything comes together and there's a wonderful demonstration of sport's ability to unite us all, and even, occasionally, to work miracles. Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant and dyslexic readers aged 8+

The Case of the Vanishing Granny

Author: Alexander Mccall Smith Format: Paperback Release Date: 04/04/2019 Year Groups: Key Stage 1, Key Stage 2

There's all the fun of the circus in Alexander McCall Smith's new series, and a satisfying bit of junior sleuthing. Young Billy, Fern and Joe are performers in their family circus, but there's a bit of Sherlock Holmes about them too: as their friend Mr Birdcage points out, they're clever, and they like helping people. So when they notice a sad boy in the audience and find out his granny has gone missing, they set about finding her, using some of their circus skills in the process. Readers will be delighted to know that the circus's troupe of dog stars play a part as well. It's a lovely story and as ever filled with the all-embracing sense of kindness and integrity that is characteristic of McCall Smith's writing.

Toad Attack!

Author: Patrice Lawrence Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/03/2019 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

April 2019 Book of the Month | Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8
It's hard to resist any book that starts with toads dropping from the sky and that's just one of the delights of this story. The toads provide the backdrop to a thoroughly enjoyable tale of friendship, inter-school horticultural rivalry and the fall and rise of an umbrella emporium. Patrice Lawrence makes sure the storylines leap along nicely and her central characters Leo and Rosa feel like old friends even by chapter two. Becka Moor's illustrations – of toads and human characters alike – are more than lively enough to match the narrative. A fun, original adventure that will keep everyone hoppy.

Laura Norder Sheriff of Butts Canyon

Author: Guy Bass Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/02/2019 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

March 2019 Book of the Month | Interest Age 8+ Reading Age 8
Guy Bass comes out all guns blazing in his latest comic adventure which features some typically wonderful characters – I particularly like Tad Tipsy the bartender and Precious Little the gold prospector. Centre stage is sheriff's daughter Laura Norder and her arch enemy Duncan Disorderly, motto 'No rules!'. In a spontaneous gesture he comes to regret, Laura's dad makes her sheriff, but absolute power is no good for anyone and Laura's obsession with imposing strict rules quickly makes her very unpopular with the townspeople of Butts Canyon. It's very funny indeed, but there are lessons for us all and a sly bit of political satire too. Yee haw!

Shona, Word Detective (4u2read)

Author: John Agard Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/03/2018
Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 8-12 Reading Age 7 Shona loves words and discovering new ones, so she's fascinated by the professor on TV talking about her campaign to protect dying languages. Shona's teacher is a language-lover too and encourages the class to create a language nest. The class fills up with words from the different languages the children speak and there's a special surprise guest at their World Language Day celebration. A story that takes real pleasure in words and language, this is a lively and entertaining read. Shona, her friends and family are fun to be with and every reader will pick up words they didn't know to add to their own language nest. ~ Andrea Reece Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant or dyslexic readers aged 7+ Barrington Stoke is the foremost publisher of dyslexia friendly books and those for reluctant readers. ## The Moonshine Dragon

Author: Cornelia Funke Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/09/2016 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 5-8 When a tiny dragon escapes from the pages of the story he has been reading, Patrick can hardly believe his eyes. But when a White Knight on a charger follows, Patrick soon finds himself playing a very big part in the story! Award-winning Cornelia Funke brilliantly lifts a story off the page and turns it into a ‘real’ adventure.

The Lion Roars

Author: Alan Gibbons Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/06/2016 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

The story of a young footballer from Africa who achieves his dream of winning a place at one of the top UK clubs, this short novel is both a satisfying story of hard work, dedication and talent, plus all-important family support, leading to success, but inspires too by the inclusion of pages of information about the real-life heroes of African football, from Roger Milla to Samuel Eto’o and Demba Ba. Written to be super-readable, it is action and fact-filled both, a skilful piece of storytelling that will catch the imagination of all young football fans and give them lots to talk about. ~ Andrea Reece Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant and dyslexic readers aged 8+ Barrington Stoke is the foremost publisher of super-readable short fiction by some of the very best children’s authors and illustrators in the UK. ## The Beast

Author: Michaela Morgan Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/02/2016 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 7-12 Reading Age 7 Clever telling keeps this story spooky and surprising. Chapter one and Robbie and Gareth are local celebrities being interviewed by local TV. But why? A story of ghostly goings on in the local woods, bravery plus a bit of playground humiliation is revealed leading up to a surprise twist in the tale as we learn just what was making those creepy night-time howling noises and why the boys are in the spotlight. Part of Barrington Stoke's 4U2Read series, this has been edited to a reading age of seven, but the boys' adventure makes for really satisfying reading for children aged 8 to 12, and they are a very likeable, believable couple of rascals. ~ Andrea Reece Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant and dyslexic readers aged 7+ Barrington Stoke is the foremost publisher of dyslexia friendly books and those for reluctant readers. ## My Dog Daisy

Author: Jean Ure Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/08/2015 Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 8-12 Reading Age 8+ This new story from Jean Ure, though seemingly simple and straightforward, is typically full of insight into children's friendships and lives. Like lots of children, Lily longs for a dog but now that she and her mum are living in a fifth floor flat it's just not possible. Lily can't accept this, blames her mum (they used to live with her gran until her mum had a falling out with her) and generally behaves in a very stroppy way. A meeting with an old lady and her dog in the park changes things, and Lily's new friendship helps her cope with her anger, and gives her space to calm down. ~ Andrea Reece Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant and dyslexic readers aged 8+ Barrington Stoke is the foremost publisher of dyslexia friendly books and those for reluctant readers. ## Street Corner Dad

Author: Alan Gibbons Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/01/2015
Year Groups: Key Stage 2

Interest Age 7-12 Reading Age 7 Set in Liverpool during World War II, Alan Gibbon's novel is a compelling drama. It packs a real emotional punch despite its short extent, which is Barrington Stoke style, part of their method of removing the obstacles that can put off struggling or dyslexic readers. Jimmy, Molly and their parents live with his nan, but she's never approved of their dad, and holds him responsible when their mum is killed in a bomb blast. Things get bleaker when Dad's ship is torpedoed. The book gives a real sense of the lives of city kids during wartime, and Gibbon's staccato style - nan 'had a face like a hawk and a taste for Guinness.' - suits the format very well. Particularly suitable for struggling, reluctant and dyslexic readers aged 7+

Skulduggery

Author: Tony Robinson Format: Paperback Release Date: 15/09/2014 Year Groups: Key Stage 1

Interest Age 5-8 A swashbuckling adventure from TV star Tony Robinson. Ben is a pirate at heart who is not at all happy when he discovers on his first day at school that there are no walk-the-plank and cutlass classes.
